SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Famous Beauty Tells Hair Curling Secrets

"I cannot too strongly condemn the use of the hot curling-iron," says Rita Moya. "It means death to the hair eventually. Moreover it is entirely unnecessary. The hair can be made beautifully wavy and curly to any extent and in any form desired, merely by using such a simple thing as pure silmerine. This perfectly harmless liquid should be applied to the hair with a clean tooth brush at night. In the morning you will find that a very beautiful natural wave and curliness has resulted, and the effect will last a considerable time."

"The liquid silmerine is very beneficial and is not sticky or greasy. Neither does it streak the hair or stain the scalp. You need not get more than few ounces from your druggist. The best way is to divide the front and back hair into four to six strands and to moisten each strand thoroughly from root to tip."

PLANS FORMED TO ENLARGE AND CONSERVE

Church Work Are Explained by the Rev. Wheeler Boggess in a Brief Article.

(By Wheeler Boggess.)

The most practical part of the Laymen's Missionary Movement convention in Clarksburg was brought out in plans formed at the denominational and county rallies which were held on November 19 in the various churches of the city. In the denominational rallies each denomination was shown what were the needs of the world. Resolutions were adopted leading the churches to make effort to meet those needs. The every member canvass on plans suggested by the Laymen's Missionary Movement were approved. Then, in order to carry out these plans in the twenty-four counties of the convention area, and in order to carry them out simultaneously and systematically, each denomination was asked to nominate a vice chairman for each county represented at the convention. In the county rallies which followed, representatives from the various denominations in each county met to organize a county conservation committee to promulgate a county-wide every-member canvass. A chairman was elected to head the organization. Each denomination named various vice chairmen, and these were forthwith elected. These vice chairmen were authorized to select from their denominations certain other men who would help in working up and directing denominational interests throughout the county. Those assistants were to be chosen, as far as possible, from men who had attended the convention or who had experience in conducting an every-member canvass.

After electing a secretary treasurer for the county organization, a date for the county every member in the county would be urged to conduct its every member canvass. In order to prepare for that day and its work, each vice chairman was instructed to communicate with each church of his denomination in the county, and urge them to begin immediately special preaching and prayer services on the subjects of stewardship and systematic beneficence. To give needed instruction in the best methods of arranging for and conducting the every-member canvass, each church was to secure or be provided with—"Suggestions to Leaders in Every-Member Canvass" (five cents) and "The Workers' Packet" (ten cents). These are prepared and sold by the Laymen's Missionary Movement, No. 1, Madison avenue, New York. Besides these general pamphlets, it was suggested that each vice chairman secure for free distribution among his churches such denominational literature as would show the denominational aspects and objects of the every-member canvass. Each denomination has its own representatives in the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and all are anxious that their people make the most progress possible in accomplishing their share in the work of evangelizing the world.

Conservation committees have been formed in Harrison, Barbour and Ritchie counties and probably in others also. Prominent business and professional men have been elected as chairmen, and are showing by their zeal that they have caught the spirit of the movement. The original executive committee for the Clarksburg convention is now acting as central conservation committee, and is about to send out a communication, not only to the twenty-four counties included in the area of the Clarksburg convention, but to every county in the state. Their desire is to enlist the Christian men of the state in work commensurate with their power, privilege and responsibility. Inspires this action. They hope that West Virginia will no longer lag behind other states, but will quickly take its share in the world task, by providing adequately both of men and means. Some of the men at the convention got visions of lone missionaries working to evangelize sections larger and more crowded than any single state county in our state. Such visions are compelling them to work more than ever before to provide all that is needed to get the Gospel to every living person in those crowded fields within this generation. The most experienced missionaries claim that this is easily within reach, of one man out of every 1,150 church members in America, could become a missionary. This would mean one missionary to each 25,000 non-Christians. To provide for each missionary and his work would require an average of about $2,000 per year. Many of those who are now in the foreign fields have left positions paying salaries very much larger than they now receive as missionaries. The average salary of a missionary and his wife is about $1,100. Mr. Loggess knows of four of his fellow missionaries in South India who have left positions in America paying from $2,500 to $5,000 per year. They now receive from one-third to one-fourth of these amounts for their services as missionaries. Out of their small salaries these men contribute more than ten per cent to the cause to which they are devoting themselves. In comparison with this, what are the Christian men of America giving?

NEW CARS READY FOR COMMISSION

And the Car Shortage in This Section Will Be Soon a Thing of the Past.

That the car shortage, which has seriously hampered the successful operation of the Fairmont coal region for a number of weeks, will soon be eliminated, was the joint opinion of coal and railroad officials who were in the city Monday. That both the Baltimore and Ohio and the Western Maryland companies will begin to receive their new cars within a short time was an interesting announcement and it means that the presence of the new hoppers on the two systems will relieve conditions at the local mines.

It was learned that the Baltimore and Ohio would begin to receive the 5,000 new cars recently purchased in weekly installments of ninety cars, commencing immediately. It was also stated that the first of the 3,000 new cars purchased from the Pullman company by the Western Maryland would be received by that system between the tenth and fifteenth of January.

President Carl G. Gray, of the Western Maryland, stated that his spur from Clifton to the mines of the Consolidation Coal Company at Ida May and Caroline, would be ready for use by March 1. By that time his car supply, augmented by the new hoppers, should be the best and the location of the mines will profit by the additional transportation facilities.

President Jere H. Wheelwright, of the Consolidation company, thinks that the Baltimore and Ohio will be able in a very short time to relieve the car situation.

HAND SEVERED.

RICHMONDTOWN, Pa., Dec. 4.—Seeing his father feeding a meat grinder, 3 year old Luther Bader, of this town, put his hand to the mouth of the machine when his father was not looking, and before the grinder could be stopped, the child's hand had been mangled. The child's life was saved by the presence of mind of a boy scout, Vincent Faust, who applied a tourniquet and stopped the flow of blood.

To Ward Off Winter Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all winter, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Rough, chapped or discolored skin, inevitable in this weather, is gently absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, the latter being applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear conspicuous at this season, because of alternating expansion and contraction of the skin, due to changing temperatures. I advise you to try this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drugstore and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably youthful and healthy. Winds and flying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every wrinkle, however produced, by using a harmless face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel.

RAGTIME BARRED.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—There is to be no more ragtime music heard in the public schools here, according to a mandate just handed down by Hamline E. Cogswell, the musical director. Mr. Cogswell is determined to stamp out the "ribald jingle" and supplant it by incultating in the minds of the students a love of good music.

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiaicol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co.

Clarksburg's Christmas Store

The Store That Makes Little Folks Happy

The welcome of the toy is for young and old. Everybody loves toys, gray heads, as well as curly heads, old as well as young, and it does seem that toys love everybody. Every little boy and girl knows that Santa sits all year 'round in his snug little house up at the North Pole, making toys for Christmas, and when it gets close to Christmas, he harnesses up reindeer, packs toys in his sleigh and brings them to The Pike News Store for little folks to see, and Christmas Eve he distributes the toys around. It would be a shame for any child to miss seeing this toy store. Let everybody see them and let no one fail to visit the Toy Department, Second Floor.

IF IT WERE NOT FOR SANTA CLAUS WHERE WOULD CHRISTMAS BE?
